Humana... A Commitment To Caring.

At Humana, our sense of commitment is very strong. For those we serve, it's evident in our spirit, our service and our compassion. And for nurses, it's evident in our support and respect. Throughout our international hospital network, Humana nurses are building caring careers. And for those professionals committed to nursing, there's no better place to be.

WHO WE ARE

Humana is an international hospital company that owns and operates 87 acute care hospitals in the United States, England, Mexico and Switzerland. Our hospitals are known for their dedication to excellence, innovative approaches to patient care, and use of state-of-the-art technology. Health care professionals are drawn to Humana hospitals not only because of their outstanding physical character and locations, but because we pay special attention to our human relations skills. Our goal is to be unsurpassed in the treatment of patients and concern for our employees. Technical soundness plus a caring attitude makes Humana unique.

WHY WE'RE SPECIAL

Humana considers its nurses a critical element in the operation of its hospitals. Emphasis is placed on creating work environments that attract and retain competent nurses. Humana professionals find unique opportunities for career advancement. They can choose to advance within a specific hospital, or assume a position with greater challenge at one of our other facilities. All transferring personnel retain full benefits and seniority.

WHAT WE OFFER

At Humana, nurses enjoy an exceptional career choice. They can take a permanent position with one of our 87 hospitals nationwide, or assume temporary assignments as a member of our Mobile Nurse Corps. Either way, you will enjoy outstanding benefits including health, life and dental insurance plans, retirement and investment programs, tuition reimbursement and highly competitive salaries.

PREFACE

State-Approved Schools of Nursing—RN 1985 reports the results of NLN's annual survey of schools of nursing, covering the period between August 1, 1983, and December 31, 1984. The publication provides a comprehensive directory of all 1,477 RN programs in the U.S., with alphabetical state listings. As in past years, NLN has maintained a response rate of 100%. Lists of schools of nursing in the U.S. are maintained by NLN and are updated each year by questionnaires sent to boards of nursing. Newly opened programs and those that have recently closed are listed at the end of the directory. The first section of the directory lists all state-approved nursing programs preparing students for RN licensure. For each school, the following information is included: address, telephone number, director, accreditation status, state board approval, financial support, administrative control—as well as admissions, enrollments and graduations. Unless otherwise indicated, all schools listed in the first section must be state-approved.

A new "footnote" feature is being introduced in this year's edition. The footnotes are intended to help the reader understand some of the new options available to the contemporary nursing student as well as to clarify unusual features of some programs. A description of the footnotes appears on page xiii and it is suggested that you read them carefully.

The second section of this year's edition has been revised to include only those programs designed exclusively for RNs completing their baccalaureate degrees. Addresses, telephone numbers, directors, NLN accreditation status, enrollments and graduations are also included for each school. Those baccalaureate programs that mainstream RNs into their regular degree program are included in the first section and are accompanied with footnote #9.

Programs that admit RNs only (popularly known as BRN programs) usually are not mandated by law to be state-approved, since these programs are restricted to students who have already been licensed by the state. Thus, programs need not be approved by state boards of nursing in order to be listed in the second section. Lacking mandatory state board approval, there has been no central source for identifying all such programs. Hence, section two listings are thorough, but not necessarily exhaustive.

A few schools have requested that the statistical information provided in the annual survey not be listed in the directory. This request has been honored in the school listings.

This is one of several publications under the revised format for NLN's research publications. Other modules include: Nursing Student Census with Policy Implications, Nursing Faculty: Socio-economic Trends, and State-Approved Schools of Nursing—LPN/LVN 1985. An annual publication at the end of the year, entitled Nursing Data Review will be based on the modules and will include additional information. We hope users will find this format helpful in facilitating access to our research findings.

EVALUATION IN NURSING: Principles and Practice

by Lawrence Litwack, EdD, Linda Linc, PhD, RN, and Dolores Bower, PhD, RN indispensable to . . .

- nursing faculty
- nursing education administrators
- nursing service administrators
- continuing education instructors
- graduate students

A comprehensive introduction to evaluation in all types of nursing educational programs and a variety of service settings. Topics covered include the basics of measurement, classroom assessment, clinical assessment, program evaluation, and evaluation of faculty and administrators. Throughout, the text is illustrated with practical applications and a large number of sample evaluation tools.

The first book to apply a unified approach to evaluation in nursing service and education, Evaluation in Nursing covers the basics—goals and objectives, statistics, writing test items—and thus can serve as a text in graduate courses in evaluation. It then goes further to include sophisticated material on staff and program evaluation, computer-assisted instruction, and clinical evaluation. Evaluation in Nursing will inform and challenge both graduate students and experienced evaluators. Some additional features:

- Over 20 sample evaluation tools
- Clear, easy-to-understand charts, graphs, and diagrams
- Practical applications for both nursing education and service
- Comprehensive bibliography and two indexes
